A gloriously funny examination of the chaotic world of love, relationships and why the grass is never greener. Four sets of characters, four crucial moments.

- Jonathan and Wendy are on a blind date and hoping to get it right this time even though they've never got it right before;
- Barrie is not really interested in women but Janet sees that as no reason to stop trying;
- Shelley and Bobby have decided to holiday in Spain to finalize their divorce whilst drowning in cocktails;
- Angela is marrying for the third time to the dismay of her sister Toby and amidst a barrage of bad omens and a dress resembling a parachute.

It's Only a Play – by Terrence McNally.

July 27-August 11 (8 shows)

Directed by Mark Thomson and Theresa Saunders

Some Adult language and Adult Themes. Not suitable for children.

A sizzling comic celebration of theatre at its best and theatre people at their not-so-best.

It's the opening night of "The Golden Egg" on Broadway and there's a lavish party at the producer's townhouse as they await the first reviews. The action takes place in the bedroom above the party where a group of insiders have staked themselves out to be the first to hear the reviews. In the group are the excitable playwright, the unstable director, the pill popping, aging star with an ankle monitor, the playwright's supposed best friend, the show's producer, the acerbic drama critic and a wannabe young actor who combine to create a sharp and comic comment on theatre and the people who inhabit it.
